Milam Boys Take Top Texas Honors In Broiler Contest

By Alton L. Fuchs

Two Milam County boys had the grand champion and reserve champion pens of broilers in the 1956 Texas Broiler Festival held recently in Corsicana.

Hal Lester Senkel of Buckholts owned the grand champion pen of broilers in the show. Eugene Michalka of Cameron was runner-up to Hal Lester and had the reserve champion pen in the contest. These two boys competed with 149 other entries of broilers raised by boys and girls from all parts of Texas.

After working with their broilers for 9 weeks, Hal and Eugene were rewarded for their splendid work at an auction which climaxed the festival activities. Hal's broilers sold for $500 to the Cherokee Hatchery of Tyler; Eugenes sold for $400 to the Ideal Hatchery and Poultry Farm of Cameron.

Judge Al Bybee, well-known Dallas poultry marketing expert judged the broilers. He first judged the birds live and then had the top pens killed and dressed to determine the final placings. Bybee described the two top pens as truly wonderful pens which exceeded all other pens in fleshing, feathering, finish and uniformity.

Hal's pen of broilers weighed 64 pounds, which was the heaviest pen entered in the show. This was the first time in the history of the show that the heaviest pen won grand champion. Eugene's pen of birds weighed 62 pounds which also was a heavy entry.

Carroll Wayne Jungmann of Cameron placed eighth with a superior pen of white rocks. Carroll Wayne also did a fine job of raising his broilers and barely missed top honors.

Hal Lester is a 7 year 4-H ClubberState winner in corn production, he won the county crops and County poultry medals two years was tutored by County Agents J. D. Moore and Lester Byrd. He was winner of the first Milam County broiler show in 1954 and is also a member of the Buckholts state champion poultry judging team which will represent Texas at the National Poultry Judging Contest in Kansas City in the fall. Hal is a freshman in Buckholts high school.

Eugene and Carroll Wayne are both F.F.A. chapter members. L. R. Thompson, vocational agriculture teacher of Cameron, worked with these two boys and is partly responsible for the fine showing made. Eugene is a freshman and Carroll Wayne is a sophomore Carroll Wayne was also a member of the Cameron poultry judging team which placed second in the state poultry judging contest.

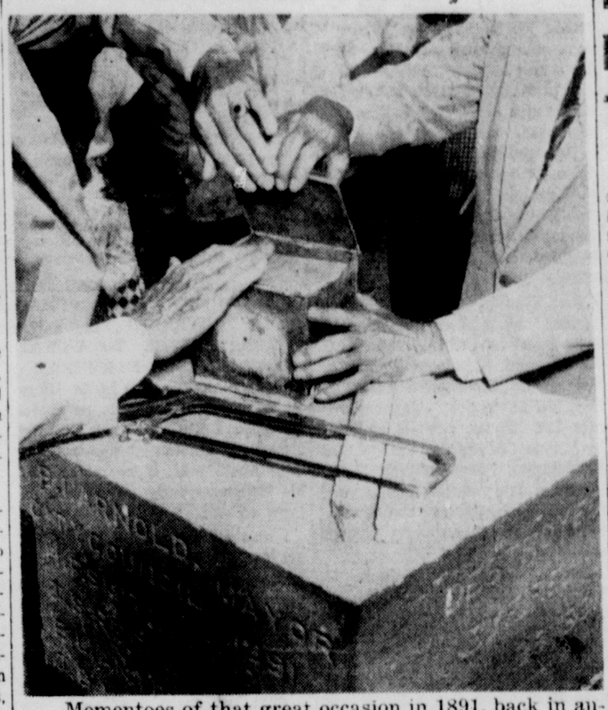
Hands Across A Century



Mementoes of that great occasion in 1891, back in another century, when the people of Cameron dedicated a school to the education and welfare of the community are revealed here after the metal box was sawed open during ceremonies on the grounds of that old school on Monday, May 14.

CONTAINED IN THE BOX WERE: A copy of the Cameron Herald, 1891: A copy of the Cameron Sentinel and of the Bremond Sentinel also a copy of the Galveston Daily News, dated July 25, 1891; Pictures of Tom and Eleanor Henderson a $5 bill of confederate money; a letter addressed to school officials on stationery of Sheriff John H. Bickett's, also a Gulf Colorado and Santa Fe pass made out to Sheriff Bickett; a handbill offering $400 reward for arrest of Charley and Jeff Williams signed by Sheriff Bickett (a letter has come to the Herald since a Waco station televised this handbill from a niece of the Williams men—the lady asked for particulars); Next was a picture of Wilbur F. Crawford: An annual school report for 1890-91. A First National Bank Stock Certificate; Pictures of H. F. Smith Jr., J. S. Hefley, Benny Meager Arnold and Monta Moore; A Cameron Union Cottonyard receipt; a leaflet advertising Gold Leaf Cottonseed; a Letterhead from M. M. Kemp Co.; A 2c stamped envelope; A letter from Mayor B. I. Arnold to the People of Cameron today; A Bible owned by Dora P. Moore; Letter from Crawford and Crawford bankers; A copy of ordinances of the City of Cameron (1891); a buckeye; an Indian-head penney dated 1890 and a card of Dr. Shaw, M.D.; Advertisements of Insurance companies doing business in Cameron. One was Arnold and Moore established 1878 and today operated by Minnie Stedman.

Following are the cornerstone speeches given by Mrs. Mary Lake Henderson Culpepper and Hilliard Thomas at the ceremonies.

Dear Friends:

The ground whereon we stand is Hallowed ground. Here on this ground, our Founding Fathers, whose names are recorded in legal deeds, carved on these corner stones, or mentioned by word of mouth, and carried in your memories—, here, on this ground the Founding Fathers planted the seed of learning in this community.

Milam Liberal Institute founded March 29, 1848, was known in the 1880's as "The Academy". In 1890 the City of Cameron incorporated in order to build a public school, on these grounds. Thus the Cameron Public School System came into being right here.

The Honorable Hilliard Thomas has given you an excellent address on the history of your schools.

We are gathered this afternoon for the opening of the cornerstone of one of the early landmarks in the City of Cameron to view with interest mementos, pictures and relics of another day which were placed in this cornerstone at the time the building was rebuilt in 1891.

The town site of Cameron was laid off in 1846 on property deeded by Daniel Monroe. On March 20, 1848, we find that the Milam Liberal Institute was started with Geo. B. Erath, Geo. Green, Isaac Cook, R. E. Hubby, Daniel Monroe, W. M. Lampkin, and J. J. Turnham as incorporators, and while we have no record specifically as to where the Institute's first buildings were located, we do find that this school ground was deeded to George Green, et al as Trustee of the School in 1857, and which property was to be the site

Best Doors Are In Production Here Says Plant Mgr.

"The best doors in the company" are being made at the Cameron installation of Wallel-Lake Door Company according to plant manager John Gay.

With 25 inexperienced help on the job the first day or two of operation he and his company helpers loaned by the Eufaula, Ala. works turned out 774 doors. The Cameron labor is expected to be about 35 by the time this paper comes out.

There is no limit or capacity of the factory Gay assured and by next Monday he expects to hit production with 1720 doors coming out each day. The Alabama plant is making more than 8,000 units per day now.

The first carload of approximately 1,000 doors is being produced now for shipment to a consumer reports Colonel Jay Holmes.

George D. Hutto, Aston Turner, Robers Bradley and Walter B. Ward of Eufaula, Alabama are assisting Gay in training of the Cameron personnel and all agree that the labor here is good, they try hard, and get things right when they are told.

Thirty-five men were expected to be working by the time this paper comes out and that number will be steadily increased as production goes up says Gay.

900 HELPERS—It takes $1,250 to get your name on the ballot for Governor of Texas. And Democratic candidate Ralph Yarborough (right), shown paying his fee in cash to George Sandlin, Secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, almost didn't make it. He paid on the last day, telling Austin reporters that three days earlier he didn't have the money. He said some 900 supporters contributed for the fee, in $1, $5 and $10 bills. Yarborough said if present trends continue he will win in the first primary July 28. Among his first official acts, he said, will be a recommendation for raising Texas' "shamefully low" old age assistance payments.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER WANTS CONGRESS TO FIND SOMEBODY ELSE TO WORRY ABOUT BESIDES FARMERS.

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm on Little River is worried about the amount of worry being done about him, if we understand his letter correctly this week. ...

Dear editar:

I was talking with a bunch of my neighbors yesterday afternoon and we have decided the time has come for the politicians to find somebody else to worry about besides us farmers.

It's not that we mind all the cern the politicians are expressing about us, I guess it's bet ter to be worried over just ahead of an election once every four years rather than to be ignored altogether, but being the only fly in the whole national anointment is beginning to get tiresome.

Consequently, I have been racking my brain to dig up some other group the country can worry about part of the time. Say confine worrying over us farmers to the mornings and devote the afternoons to somebody else.

For example, I believe there is a surplus of filling stations in this country, although I haven't counted em. At least I notice there are a lot of filling station men who are driving last year's cars and it's been so long since I've seen a line of cars waiting to get into a station I'm convinced Congress could find something to worry about in this connection if it'd try hard enough.

Or take blacksmiths. The family-size blacksmith shop is dis-appearing from this nation, machine shops are edging them out, but do you hear a single holler from Washington? Not a President in the last four decades has been given an opportunity to veto a blacksmith bill.

Understand, I'm not suggesting that Congress stop worrying about us farmers and I don't think Congress will as long as the office remains elective, but you can overdo a thing. No doubt there is unrest among the farmers, but there's also some rest scattered around too.

I'd like to suggest that Congress stop worrying about the farmer and start appropriating, and then move on to something else. No use riding a good horse to death.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Most Broilers In Cameron Show Definitely 4-F

Flashing, feathering, fat covering and freedom from serious defects are the 4-F's of broier quality said E. D. Parnell of Texas A & M following the broiler show in Cameron last week.

The Grand Champion pen of broilers was fully feathered; had a uniform covering of fat over the body of the birds; were fuy fesh ed and were free of bruises and other defects. The birds were perfectly matched in size and in general appearance.

The second place pen matched the first place ones in feathering and in fat covering or finish, but was not as well fleshed as the Champion birds. However, the quality of these birds was very good and the difference between the first and second place winners was not very great.

The third place entry was not quite as good in feathering as the first two, was slightly better in fleshing than the second place pen and was just slightly poorer in fat covering or finish, when compared to the two first place pens. This was possibly the largest pen of birds in the show, and there was every evidence that this grow er had done a very fine job.

The fourth place pen was the best feathered group in the show, was not quite as good in finish as the first three pens; but the main weakness was a pack of fleshing especially on the breasts of the birds. There were no serious defects on any of the birds.

The fifth place entry lacked the good feathering of the entries above it; nor did the birds have quite as high a finish (fat covering) as the pens above it. The fleshing was good, the birds were well matched and the grower had done a fine job with her birds.

Overall, this show was far superior to any of the past shows. Of the 125 pens in the show, 60 to 70 were of superior quaity. Ony a dozen of them needed definite improvement.

Rest, complete rest, say soil soil conservation service technicians serving the Little River San Gabriel Soil Conservation District is perhaps the greatest single need of most of the form pasture within the district. At the same time, complete rest is the most effective single treatment that could be applied to most of the farm pastures of the district at this particular time. Where this cannot be realized adjustment of the numbers of livestock and provision of supplemental sources of grazing or feed should be carried out to the extent that at least twenty-five percent of the current years growth of pasture plants can be left. This applies to the Bermuda, Buffalo and King Ranch Bluestem grass pastures in general.

This cycle of dry years has reduced plant vigor on the part of all pasture plants. Where this has been combined with constant trampling and over use by livestock, an erosion controlling cover of vegetation has been removed and base stands of the principal plants are being drastically reduced.

Prior to recent rains, only small amounts of moisture remained in the surface two feet of most pasture in general did not exist. One to four inches of rainfall has temporarily replenished soil moisture supplies but cannot provide for abundant nor prolonged pasture production. Rest will enable the pasture to re-vegetate itself and regain sod strength to the maximum extent of available moisture.

The active duty strenght of the WAVES at the present time is approximately 800 women officers and 6,000 enlisted women.

World's most popular
POWER STEERING?

Buick ROADMASTER 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera

Right this way!

EVERY YEAR, more and more new cars are equipped with Power Steering. Many a man has bought it "for the wife"—then wondered how he ever got along without it.

And if you have in mind a new car with Power Steering consider this fact:

Since the beginning of last year, *Buick has sold far more new cars equipped with Power Steering than any other car—over 20,000 more in 1955 alone.

That's the record—and the reasons for it are just as impressive.

Buick brings you In-Line Safety Power Steering. In addition to the one-finger ease of turning common to all such systems in varying degree, it has several distinct advantages.

It gives you surer, steadier, safer control at highway speeds—because it retains that good natural "feel" of the road.

On the other hand, it gives you more power assist when you need it most—at crawl speeds and at full stop. Here, Buick's Power Steering makes wheel turning nearly twice as easy as other types of systems.

Add another plus: this Buick feature works through the new Buick front end—where a unique new geometry and steering linkage bring a sweet new response and a wonderfully easy handling and a surer "sense of direction" even to new Buicks not equipped with the power system.

So there you are—and here we are, waiting to prove it all to you.

Waiting, also, to let you try the new thrills to be had in Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow†—where getaway response and gas mileage both step up even before you switch the pitch.

And waiting to show you how the highest power yet, the sweetest ride yet and the boldest styling yet—all help to make this bright new beauty the Best Buick Yet.

Today is fine with us. How about you?

Buick's In-Line Safety Power Steering is standard on Roadmaster and Super, optional at moderate extra cost on other Series.*

†New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Coaches Corner

Baseball season is over. We played some close ones. Killeen beat us 2-1 in the last inning for the final game. Those close scores make it hard on the appitite too.

Picnic season is here for the school and we have thoroughly enjoyed the parties and feeds we've been invited to. The junior Senior banquet was splinded and the Senior day trip to Belton was a lot of fun for all. Mrs. Everts, Mrs. Canady, Coach Jackson, Mrs Tompkins and I went as overseers to the swimming and picnicing. It's very seldom schools are fortunate to have such a well behaved group of seniors as we have. Eighty-seven new people are almost ready to go out in life to produce new ideas which we are proud to help them do.

Mr. Hanes delivered a fine talk Thursday night on the "Freedom" which Americanism is based upon; emphasizing to the group of Juniors-Seniors to uphold their free rights by taking part in every election of any sort to see that the majority rules which is so basic to our freedom.

School will be out in two weeks and vacations and summer jobs will be sought. From the athletic standpoint we are hoping our athletes can get a job that is hard enough to keep them in shape. Football is getting to be a year around thing and three months of hard work can develop a lot of muscles for boys.

If anyone has an opening of any sort the Coaches would appreciate you letting us know, because we certainly want our players to be busy. "An idle brain is the devils workship" is an almost true theory so if we can use up that surplus energy by work, we can "kill two birds with one stone."

We have noticed some are seeking season tickets now and that is inspiring to anyone associated with football. Cameron is a football town and we coaches are trying to direct the football teams to give the public something they like. Even though our cycle of boys runs out about every four or five years we are definitely on the comeback trail. The schedule is a little tough but that's the way we like it. The other teams don't know it but their schedule is tough too when they play us.

I wish kick off time was 8:00 O'clock tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Asher will drive through Waco, pick up their daughter, Lu Wane at Baylor University and continue on to Kansas City for the Southern Baptist Convention to be held May 28 to June 1. The family is due back in Cameron on June second.

Navy Chapel On Malta Dedicated

The first U.S. Navy Chapel to be built on the island of Malta was dedicated recently with an overflow congregation in attendance.

The Protestant members of Fleet Aircraft Service Squadron (Special) 201, based at the Royal Naval Air Station, Hal Far, Malta, are visited monthly by a U.S. Navy chaplain, but had no regular place of worship until the chapel was completed. Men of the Roman Catholic faith attend local civilian churches.

A Sunday School begun in 1954, and carried on under lay leadership, underscored the need for chapel facilities and prompted squadron members to begin construction.

Even the windshield wipers are safer! They're electric—no dangerous "slow down" (like vacuum types) when you step on the gas.

No "guess work" here—it's simple, sure, safe! Dodge push-button driving is mechanically perfect—the safest, surest way of driving! Control panel is out-of-reach of mischief or mistake.

Takes the terror out of blow-outs! Dodge Safety-Rim wheels let you guide your Dodge to a safe, sure stop.

Dodge power is your "safety ally!" The Dodge V-8 uses aircraft engine principles to put greater break-away power at your command.

Naturally, Dodge has pioneered in special safety-equipment too.

of the Milam Liberal Institute as we know it. The early buildings were frame and from what information we were able to piece together was composed of approximately three rooms, two of which were classrooms and one of which was a music room. This building was referred to by some as "The Old Academy." We understand that there was a certain flexibility to the building in that the partitions which separated the rooms could be raised or lowered as the need arose.

The Milam Liberal Institute was the center of learning for this area and it is recalled that my Grandmother, Mrs. Viola Oxsheer Smith, attended this Institute as a girl of seven years. She roomed and boarded in the town while attending school. Apparently this schooling was good as she later attended the old Salado College at Salado, Texas, which was then a school of higher education.

Cameron was incorporated as I understand it for school purposes and the first brick building was erected here in 1890 and the granite cornerstone which we view today was set in that building. I understand that the building was red brick with white mortar and was completely destroyed by fire just before it was finished. The second building was rebuilt in 1891 on the same basic plan as the original, the only difference being that it was of white brick with red mortar and the red sandstone cornerstone in addition to the granite cornerstone was placed in the new building.

My Uncle, Mr. Oxsheer Smith, recalls as a boy working removing the from the brick out of the burned building so that they could be reused in the building which was erected.

In looking in Webster for definitions of liberal and institute, I found that institute was defined as an organization to promote art, science, and the like and that the word liberal as applied to the arts included languages, sciences, philosophy, history, etc. From the information which I have been able to glean, the Institute was liberal in other respects in that every member of the School District had their own opinion as to what courses should or should not be taught and as to how they should be taught. This resulted in many changes in courses and Mrs. Lina Kemp remarked "In the 11 years I attended school, I never had the same principal twice."

We find that these squabbles resulted in a separate school bieng established in the Odd Fellows Hall and this school apparently was in operation in 1884.

Part of this is pure conjecture but Miss Alice McGehee showed me three receipts for tuition which were paid by Mr. George Green, one to the Milam Liberal Institute on October 12, 1885, and the other to the Cameron High School, dated for the quarter ending April 4, 1884. Tuition was very reasonable as tuition in the Milam Liberal Institute covering grade two was only $7.50 for a five-month period and for grade one the tuition was $1.00 per month. Tuition in the Cameron High School, however, was slightly higher as it was $7.50 per quarter plus $ .75 to cover incidental expenses, or a total of $8.25. She also had a receipt dated September 13, 1886 for tuition and incidental expenses for John and Henry Green for the month beginning September and ending October 8, 1886, totaling $5.20. Compare this cost with today's price of schooling of approximately 102.00 per pupil per year to give you some idea of the changes in the cost of education as it has evolved today. After Cameron was incorporated into a City a tax levy was made to support the public schools and the Milam Liberal Institute gradually was taken over by the Cameron Schools. This took place somewhere around 1890-91.

The building which was erected after the fire of 1891 continued to serve as the public school building for the City of Cameron until 1925 or 1926 at which time the elementary school was moved into the new Ada Henderson building. I have related instances of my family in attending the various schools on this building site. I might even add that I myself received my first instructions in this building under the capable instruction of Miss Ada Henderson. She had previously taught both my Mother and Father and our class was the last which Miss Ada taught.

Our training in the first grade as I recall it consisted primarily of reading, writing, arithmetic and some music. It is interesting to note that at that time you did not attend the first grade until you were 7 years old, although you could attend a school supported kindergarten at 6.

We have made tremendous strides in education in recent years with a changing emphasis toward vocational subjects. These changes in curriculum and in teaching methods are debated seriously today by many scholars and will be debated for years to come. One of the most recent of these was the "Johnnie Couldn't Read" debate and while we will have changes in our schools and school systems education like any good buisncss must change with changing conditions. Whether the changes are for the best is certainly not for me to decide but I think we must realize that our educational system as it has developed over the years is today one of the best in the world. The idea of public free education was new and revolutionary when it was developed by a new nation so that every member of society could be good citizens. It was radical in its day but from this educational system come today's world leaders.

Farm Gasoline Tax Refunds Due After June 1

Farmers will soon be able to obtain a refund of the Federal excise tax on gasoline which is uesd on farm for farming purposes under a new law. Present Federal tax rate is 2 cents a gallon.

R. L. Phinney, Director of Internal Revenue, Austin, Texas, announced today that under the new law first refund payments will be made after June 30 on gasoline purchased and used during the first six months of 1956. Thereafter, refunds will be made for a one-year period from July 1 to June 30.

To get his refund, a farmer will have to file his claim after June 30 and before October 1. Claims are to be made on Form 2240 and are to be filed with the United States District Director of Internal Revenue for the farmer's district. Forms will be available after June 1 at Internal Revenue offices, county agricultural agents and at some banks and post offices.

Refunds will be limited to the Federal tax on gasoline which is used by a farmer for farming purposes, in carrying on a trade or business, on a farm located in the United States. A farmer may also request a refund of the tax on any gasoline which is used on his farm by a custom operator or a neighbor in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity.

R. L. Phinney explains that gasoline shall be considered used for farming purposes if it is used:

(1) By the farmer or any other person in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity, including the raising of livestock, poultry, etc., on the farmer's own farm.

(2) By the farmer in the operation, management, conservation, improvement, or maintenance of his farm or its tools or equipment

(3) By the farmer in handling, drying, packing, grading, or storing any agricultural or horticultural commodity in its unmanufactured state, but only if the farmer produced more than one-half of the commodity which he so treated during the period for which the claim is filed.

(4) By the farmer in connection with the plainting, cultivating caring for, or cutting of trees, or the preparation (other than sawing into lumber, chipping, or other milling) of trees for market but only if the planting, etc., is incidental to his farming operations.

No refunds of tax are allowed on gasoline used off the farm, such as gasoline used on public roads or highways in transporting family members or workmen, equipment, livestock, crops, feed etc. Also, no refunds are allowed for tax on gasoline used in processing, packing, freezing, or canning operations.

Farmers are also given special relief from the Federal excise tax on diesel fuel and special motor fuels used on a farm for farming purposes.

"Farmers who expect to file claims should keep sufficient records to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the amount claimed," R. L. Phinney cautioned.

How to be a Better Cook ... and save money too! by Mary Blake
Home Service Director Carnation Company

For a "Morning Glory" breakfast that perks up sleepy heads—and provides the energy they need—include the following:

Fruit
Cereal Milk
Bread & Butter

If your family wants a bigger breakfast, add meat, eggs, or pancakes. To get the most efficient and thrifty use of the food you serve your family, serve about a third of the day's food at breakfast.

Food eaten early in the day is absorbed largely during the most active daytime hours. That means you need an energy breakfast.

With no effort at all, you can dream up ways to serve cereal every day.

Serve ready-to-eat cereals with sliced bananas, berries, canned or stewed fruit.

Top any cooked cereal with brown sugar, jam, stewed fruit.

"Service Was Never Better"

Some time ago, we mailed out post cards to all our customers in Cameron. If you'll remember, we asked you in the post card what you didn't like about your telephone service.

Maybe some of you were surprised that we would ask a question like that. But we meant it. We weren't asking for compliments. We did it to find out what you really thought about telephone service here.

When the cards came back with your answers, we were happy to see that most of you said, "Service is very good, well satisfied with it." And it was good hearing it from you, because we'll all admit that nobody knows more about your service than you do.

We also got a few complaints - thanks for telling us about them - and we tried to clear those up in a hurry so that everyone in Cameron would be satisfied with their telephone service.

Meanwhile, don't hesitate if something's bothering you right now about your telephone service. Just call the telephone company. We'd like to know about it - and we'll try to do something about it, too.

Stop Those Hurried Dashes

Ever notice how you run for a ringing telephone because you're often in another part of the house? Then, when you get there, you're probably a little out of breath as you answer.

The best way I know of to stop those dashes through the house is a handy extension telephone.

Our records show that the most popular spots for an extension with most people are the bedroom and kitchen. But don't forget the living room or workshop - or anywhere, really, that's most convenient for you and your family.

To order an extension, just call the telephone company. The cost of an extension in your home is only $1.10 a month, including tax, plus a one-time installation charge of $2.00.

Long Distance Visit

I was thinking just the other day that you can't drive a car from Cameron to Houston for seventy-two cents. Yet you can visit there - by Long Distance - for just seventy - two cents, including tax.

That's the cost of a three-minute station-to-station call, after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday. Long Distance rates to anywhere are much less than you might think. So plan to visit regularly - by Long Distance. And when you call, remember to call by number - it's twice as fast.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Into the capable hands of Miss Ada Margaret Smith you have entrusted the contents of the cornerstone - the keep sakes of an era. She will know how to evaluate and to preserve them.

You have heard from the Mayor of the City, Mr. Robert Weems Mr. H. B. Pressley, President of the School Board and other notables today, and yet, we are loathe to leave this cherished spot.

Let us take just a little time to reminisce and reason together.

We must be brief, and we will call few names - for each of us, who love this place and those who peopled it are nostalgic with memories. As I recall one incident you may be thinking of many. If one person is named here you could list scores. As I retell a few stories you dream your own dreams of the halcyon days, as you knew them here, on this sacred soil. We invite the younger generations to listen as we open up the treasures of our hearts.

Three brief stories from three eras illustrate the danger of fire to buildings here.

According to Mrs. Meta McCown, it was about 1886, while Professor Mebane was Principal of the academy that the flue caught on fire and coals began to fall on the school room floor. The dignified Mr. Mebane said, "Young ladies and gentlemen, keep your seats, and I will go down and see if I can find a ladder, so I can put out the fire". As soon as he left Jeff Kemp and Coy Campbell climbed on the roof of the one story building and put out the fire. Clear thinking and quick action has ever characterized the students here.

One Sunday in April 1891 the beloved Mayor B. I. Arnold (ex-captain in the Union Army) and that scholarly gentleman from Mississippi (whose older brothers were all confederate soldiers) Mr. George H. McGehee, Secretary of the City of Cameron, made a tour of inspection of the red brick school house, under construction. It was practically finished and would soon be ready for occupancy. Crates of desks stood around, waiting to be opened. In one upstairs room shavings littered the floor. The cautious, foresighted Founding Fathers said, "This is a fire hazard, the $2000 worth of Builders Insurance is not sufficient. We must take out more fire insurance at once." City Council is not due to meet for a week. We will take out $10,000 worth of insurance today. If the Council does not approve, we will pay the one weeks expense ourselves." A few nights later the ringing of the school bell and the blowing of whistles aroused the sleeping citizens. The school house burned to the ground that night. The extra $10,000 made it possible to rebuild the school. The caution and forsight of Mayor Arnold and Mr. McGehee was a powerful example for this community.

Crowded class rooms made it necessary to have more space. The old Methodist Church was bought and moved on the north east part of the grounds. One day, Nell Sue Whitman was looking out of the window of the old church-school toward her house, just off the school grounds. She saw a strange man deliberately set the Whitman barn on fire. She gave the alarm. Big boys from the school put out the fire. After a long chase, the man was caught and admitted his guilt. He said his plan was to start a fire that would spread to the school, cause all the parents to rush to the school to save their children, and leave their homes unlocked, in their haste. Then he and his companions from a defunct carnival, could rob the homes, sack up their loot, and get out of town, during the excitement over the fire. But our Nell saved the day.

These grounds look bare and lonesome now. In the 1900's they were filled with buildings and were alive with people.

There on the east side stood the old Academy a grey two room building. Down on the west side, by the Jim Hefley property was a long brown two room building, generally used for the 6th and 7th grades.

Fronting the south central part of the ground stood the large two story white brick building with red sandstone trim, tower and all rebuilt after the fire in 1891. White stone steps, ending in a rectangular portico trimmed with blue and white tile, formed a majestic entrance to the building. Pupils formed lines, on the left and right sides of the steps, at the corners, and passed up the steps and into the building. Through the years those white stone steps were worn deep by the small feet of those seeking learning. There was keen competition for head place, and those who arrived first on the scene frequently marked their places with sizable stones. These, in time, cut deep grooves in the first steps.

Little Lula Chambers said that as she walked up those steps into Miss Ada's room, she thought that she had never seen anything as fine and as beautiful as those new cherry red desks. Just off the class rooms were commodious cloak rooms, squipped with huge double iron hooks to hold bonnets or caps and small coats. Lunch buckets and baskets were placed on a shelf above. Cloak rooms had another use in those days when discipline was firm, and was forcefully executed. To be sent to the cloak room had ominous meaning.

When more school rooms were needed the old Methodist Church was moved on the back end of the lot, a partition through the center cut it into two big barn like rooms, with high ceilings. There were at least two music rooms here one a double room affair. Church was for girls; one in the north west section was for boys, both thoughtfully equipped in graduated sizes.

In 1910 the last school building on these grounds was completed, conforming in kind and color of brick to the old two story building to which it was joined. This was always referred to as "the new school". In the basement of this fine building were modern toilets making the outdoor ones obsolete. Because they were in the basement pupils asked "May I go to the basement?" That phrase is still current here, regardless of the locality of the rest rooms.

Around all this school ground, was a fence of cedar posts, placed about ten feet apart with holes bored through them to allow iron pipe to pass as joiners. Stiles were built across the fence on north, south, east and west sides. This fence served as a property marker, fenced the children in and gave protection from cattle, which freely roamed the streets of the town.

There were basket ball courts for boys and for girls, and there were tennis courts. Fenced in with all of these buildings, cluttering up the premises, the entire county came here for the county track meets, held on these grounds in the spring. There was a full schedule of events, including relays and the 400 yard dash, which had to circle several times for lack of space, the 100 yard dash; high and broad jump; high and low hurdles, pole vault, shot put, etc. Match games were frequently held here with schools, outside the county. One year the girls basket ball team played the University of Texas.

To this ground too, came the teachers for teacher's institute and Summer normal. There was summer school for the pupils. This ground has seen a lot of living.

An important part of the school equipment was the old school bell sold for junk in world war II, I hear.

Mr. Ballinger early janitor was succeeded by the kindly Mr. Cicero Spiller. Mr. Spiller holds a very special place in the heart of those who attended school here in the early 1900's. As long as he could see one lagging pupil on his way to school Mr. Spiller kept pulling that heavy rope and ringing the bell - no one was marked tardy as long as the bell was ringing. Often he would call out, "hurry up there. I can't ring this bell much longer, daughter."

We never heard the term "Juvenile delinquency" in our schools Oh, there were some boys who sometimes got a bit rough. One or two teachers were said to have been run off by the big boys in the old days. There were a few fights between teachers and the boys. Mr. Simms turned some seventh grader boys across the back of a chair in the old office and we looked out of the window of the seventh grade and saw and heard punishment being placed in particular spots. But I do not recall any bad boys certainly no "Juvenile Delinquents."

3 Henderson speech

Whippings were replaced to some extent, in the school by a unique form of punishment. The boy with most demerits for the week stood, in plain view in the center of the mail hall, and beat a steel triangle with a metal rod to mark time for the long lines to pass into the building. There was a line on the right for the girls, and one on the left for the boys. If there had been any fighting that day, the fighters were mounted in the hall on a very small box a-

Until 1910 there were two long out door buildings used for toilets. One north east of the Methodist bout 18 by 24 inches and 12 inches high and they had to embrace each other in full view of the passing lines. The triangle player was notified on friday afternoon that for his record he would take the triangle for a week. The fighters were chosen daily. Perhaps the most interesting combination to mount the fighters box were those two famous left handers: George Hefley and George McGehee.

Who made up the faculty of our school here? Who were the students who walked those grounds? Name them in your memories with proud appreciation for faculty and students, they represented the best of that day in training and ability. By far, the finest products of these grounds are the good, sound American Citizens which this school system produced. Truly, they passed up those high steps to learn and truly they have gone forth to serve, this community and this country. Many from here have made notable contributions to society.

Our scholars have ranked high in the great universities of this country. They have become leaders in every profession and business and in every walk of life. Many have served in our armed forces. Some of them have given their lives for their country and these have become our immortals. Others have returned to live and to labor here. We salute them all - products of the educational system that was born on this ground - our Citizens good Americans all!

To you who remain here, we leave these relics of the past and our memories of a great era.

Our Founding Fathers believed a child should "grow in statue and in wisdom and in favor with God and man".

They believed too that the highest mark of wisdom was "an understanding heart."

From those who walked these grounds, may you catch the vision of a great future for "Where there is no vision the people perish."
